1:00 PM me: Main article: Python (roller coaster)
A few weeks after Python opened in 1976, a 6-foot-6, 340 pound, 39-year-old heart patient died after riding. The ride was advertised previous to this accident with the tagline "I challenged the Python and lived!" This campaign was pulled quickly afterwards.[11]
Joshua: another triumph
!!!
1:01 PM me: On the maiden voyage of the ride Apollos Chariot in March 1999, a stray goose flew into the face of the Italian model Fabio Lanzoni during the 210 foot drop, killing the bird. Fabio survived with only a cut on his nose

I must not fear. Fear is the mind-killer. Fear is the little-death that brings total obliteration. I will face my fear. I will permit it to pass over me and through me. And when it has gone past I will turn the inner eye to see its path. Where the fear has gone there will be nothing. Only I will remain.

3:20 PM me: Thanks!

3:55 PM me: I am forever coming across bits of information that would make for much more interesting reading than that which I usually end up writing, that which I end up writing being constrained by (a) my own attempts to convey a certain erudition and maturity and (b) an editor's co-conspiracy in this matter. As a result, I rarely refer to things as being "gay" in my formal work, whereas in my actual life I am constantly ascribing such a characteristic even to inanimate objects, like my last microwave, which was a fag microwave.

3:56 PM Think I should print that?

3:57 PM Joshua: edgy - your call
FAG

me: no it's yours
I'm gonna go with it
